STRUCK BY A TRAIN

Jacob Sell Caught by a Vandalia Train at the Bottorff Crossing.

The Bottorff crossing of the Vandalia railway, near Dixon Lake, was the scene of an accident Saturday evening that might have been much more serious than it turned out to be. Jacob Sell, an old and well known farmer who lives near Twin Lakes, was driving home from Plymouth and reached the crossing just in time to be struck by the southbound passenger train leaving here at 7:34. The wagon was hurled from the track and totally wrecked, and Mr. Sell emerged from the scattered pieces with two fractured ribs and many bruises and contusions. The horses were uninjured. The injured man was taken to his home by neighbors and given proper care and will doubtless recover within a short time, but he had a bad scare and a narrow escape.

Si Plunkard.

The always popular Si Plunkard was on the boards at the opera house Monday night for his annual reception in Plymouth and as he always does, he faced a crowded house and received a cordial welcome. No show coming to this city attracts so many people from the country and none gives such complete satisfaction. There is sufficient alteration and improvement this year to make practically a new performance without losing any of the sweet and wholesome rural flavor that gives it the popularity it enjoys.

The gentlemen named have been examining sites for the factory today and have also been looking for houses for their families. They will remove here at once and push the work as rapidly as possible with the expectation of getting in a full winter's work.

CITY MAKES A LOAN

Business of More or Less Importance Before the Council.

The city council met regularly Monday evening. Permission was given Lawrence Linkenhelt to move his office building from its present location to his new elevator grounds.

The contract for the Healey sewer on Washington street was awarded to Otis Mikels at 30 cents a foot, catch-basins to be $14. Other bids were filed by W. W. Hatch & Sons at 50 cents and Mr. Brumbaugh, at 80 cents.

An ordinance was passed for the construction of sidewalk and curb on Garro street on the south side of the new Bank building.

After the bills were allowed a deficit of slightly more than a thousand dollars was disclosed in the general fund and a loan of $2,000, at a rate of interest not exceeding 5 per cent, was authorized.

Wednesday afternoon was fixed as the time for a final inspection of the Michigan street pavement and that evening the council will meet specially to take action thereon.

The city attorney reported that the electric light company is not authorized by its contract, with the city to charge for the rental of meters or to fix a minimum price for lighting other than is fixed in the contract, and that the remedy is by mandamus to be brought by the city. He was authorized to commence such a suit as he may think proper.

Obituary.

Lucius Lockwood, sr., was born in Vermont, April 8, 1815, and died after an illness of fourteen days at his home near Maxinkuckee, Marshall county, Oct. 16, 1901, at the age of 86 years, 6 months and 8 days. He was the lineal descendant of early New England stock, his grandfather having emigrated from Rhode Island to Vermont about the close of the revolutionary war.

The subject spent his boyhood days among the hills of Vermont, and when nineteen years old, under the allurements of western opportunity, he decided to leave his youthful home and made his way over the old Erie Canal and the Great Lakes to Chicago, which was then but little more than a frontier settlement, thence to Elkhart county, where he began life for himself in the new country. He was united in marriage with Hannah Hibray April 8, 1838.

Eight children, six sons and two daughters, resulted from this union. Five sons, Enoch, of Ola, Mich., Jasper, of Glencoe, Okla., Asher of Cloverdale, Kansas, Semore and Luther of this county, Juliette Kilpatrick, of Yuma, Arizona, and his faithful companion, with whom he traveled the rugged road of life for more than sixty-three years, survive.

He removed to Marshall county near Plymouth in 1857 and to his late residence in 1866. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Wittaker, at the Washington M. P. church, Friday Oct. 18, at 2 o'clock, with interment in the Washington cemetery.
